Can you help?

“I was delighted to spend a few hours ship-visiting with the Apostleship of the Sea Tilbury port chaplain. The work of the Apostleship of the Sea in Tilbury and in ports around the world, is vital for the well-being of seafarers. The lives of seafarers and their families are greatly enriched by their daily actions of practical care and compassion. Long may the work of the Apostleship of the Sea continue!”

Koji Sekimizu, Secretary General, International Maritime Organisation

Please consider contributing now to the future work of the Apostleship of the Sea:

- Establish an on-going partnership between your company and the Apostleship of the Sea
- Make a strong statement about your company's commitment to supporting the welfare of seafarers

Corporate social responsibility within the community where organisations operate is an ever increasing requirement; it also adds to competitive advantage, enhances brand image, uncovers previously hidden commercial opportunities, and attracts, retains and motivates employees and shareholders.

For every £1 you give to AoS, we spend:

- 77p directly on seafarers' welfare.
- 4p on governance and administration.
- 19p on generating more funds to continue our work.
